Privacy Policy – DRMMLAW-LAWYERS

1. Our Commitment

DRMMLAW-LAWYERS is committed to protecting your privacy in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs).

2. Information We Collect

We may collect personal information such as your name, contact details, date of birth, identification, financial details and information relevant to your legal matter. Information is collected directly from you, through authorised representatives, or via publicly available sources for legitimate business and professional purposes.

3. How We Use and Disclose Information

We use personal information to:

- Provide legal and migration services under our signed Costs Agreement (if applicable).
- Verify your identity and manage trust money.
- Communicate with you and other parties involved in your matter.
- Comply with legal, professional and regulatory obligations.

We may disclose information to barristers, courts, government agencies, or professional advisers where required to carry out legal work or by law.

4. Storage and Security

All information is stored in secure electronic and physical systems accessible only to authorised personnel. We implement reasonable safeguards to protect against unauthorised access, misuse, or loss. Client files are retained for the statutory period and then securely destroyed.

5. Cross-Border Disclosure

Where a matter involves jurisdictions outside Australia, including Iran, we ensure that any overseas disclosure complies with Australian privacy and confidentiality standards as required by the Legal Profession Uniform Law (Vic).

6. Access, Correction and Complaints

You may request access to, or correction of, your information by emailing info@drmmlaw.com. If you believe we have breached your privacy, please contact our Principal Lawyer. If unresolved, you may contact the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC) via www.oaic.gov.au.
